

aeris

How to install screens in the aeris Pro units:

1) The screens are tapered so that they fit and seal inside the intake. Hold the screen so that the metal magnets are visible and face out towards you and the ring is on top. The filter will be perpendicular to the floor.

2) Hold the screen by the ring and slide the screen into the air inlet maintaining the perpendicular position to the floor. There are two tabs on the top that prevent the screen from going in too far. The magnetic connection is just enough to hold the screen in place, the air flow will also hold it in place:

3) This is what the screens will look like when properly installed.

Note the metal magnets are visible when you look in the air inlet, and the ring is at the top and accessible to remove them later for cleaning.

How to clean and maintain the filter screens

When you initially run your air purifier, you should check the screens for the first few months to see how much debris is captured. That will give you an idea how often you should clean them. To clean them...

1. Turn the air purifier off (not entirely necessary).
2. Remove the filter screens from the air purifier by using the attached ring.
3. Remove the debris captured by the screens.
 - a. Running them under water works well.
 - b. You should shake off excess water or towel dry before reinstalling.
4. Reinsert the screen back in the air purifier.
